If necessary, continue statement over page)

We need to look to the next 30 years as an Institute. In the past thirty years the status quo of an Architect has changed a great deal. We need to determine Architects place in society and culture for the future.

DARCH represents a generation of Architects. A more recent generation. DARCH has a mission to unite this more recent generation and take its place at the fore of built environment culture. The primary aim of DARCH is to increase the involvement and membership of younger members, the future of the Institute.

All levels of the profession must be involved with the Institute, with an even distribution of small, medium and large practice. Local and regional networks such as Newcastle, LOWAN, SPUN, BANG, SEA, IWAN, ANSR, GreatWAN and CCAN, are fantastic and must be further supported. Further regional networks must be developed.

Society must be educated in the reasonable fee structures and expectations of Architects. The Institute must lead in the wealth creation of the Profession.

The Institute must concentrate on promoting and uplifting Architects, not Architecture, and in doing so Architecture will be the winner.

Thank you.
